

Africa Airline Association (AFRAA), a non-profit organization that aims to establish harmonious and effective cooperation between African airlines, and ATA signed a partnership agreement in 2006 dedicated to increasing travel to Africa and promoting the marketing of African-based airlines.