“The western media needs to focus more on success stories in Africa. We are doing so many good things out here which do not get enough publicity.” President Kikwete, Tanzania.

Testimonials from our supporters around the world are proof that we have heeded President Kikwete’s request by providing positive publicity for the past 15 years. The results are showing up in meaningful, measurable ways, as we move ahead, building a library of books and magazines that showcase the Best of Africa. Our “Faces of Africa” are smiling for good reason - their stories in print, online and on air are many, varied and well received. For over 100 examples visit: www.africa-ata.org/faces1.htm

The Essential Worldwide Exhibition for Meetings and Incentive Travel

With global business experiencing unprecedented change, IMEX is the show that exceeds your expectations every time. Three vital days where you’ll meet more top people in the global industry than anywhere else. Where new contacts, new ideas and new strategies will provide the tools and business you need to thrive in today’s business climate.

IMEX is the only global exhibition to combine an international hosted buyer programme with thousands of buyers from the German outbound market. The 3,500 exhibitors from across the globe include national & regional tourist offices, convention & visitor bureaux, hotel groups, conference centres, cruise lines, airlines, destination management companies and more. “In a word, IMEX has been fabulous - visitors are deadly serious about doing business, meaning that no time is wasted. It’s been fun too.”

Martin Sirk, ICCA

Business follows IMEX

This year’s IMEX was delivered following one of the most uncertain periods in global economic history. Nevertheless, the international meetings, incentive travel and events industry is nothing if not resilient, pragmatic and inherently optimistic. And this was reflected in a strong desire to get down to business and see a return on investment coupled with a widespread belief that business opportunities were still in good supply. Our feedback proves that all of this – and more – was achieved at IMEX this year. Hosted buyer numbers reached a new high of 3,779 (from 60 countries), with buyers representing the long-haul markets increasing by 50%. Over 8,900 visitors, 3,700 international hosted buyers, 4,300 German buyers, 3,500 exhibitors, 157 countries. Contact: Carina Bauer Ph: +49 (0) 1273 227311 http://www.imex-frankfurt.com

About Frankfurt

Situated on the Main River, Frankfurt is the financial and transportation centre of Germany and the largest financial centre in continental Europe. It is seat of the European Central Bank, the German Federal Bank, the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and the Frankfurt Trade Fair, as well as several large commercial banks. Frankfurt Airport is one of the world’s busiest international airports, Frankfurt Central Station is one of the largest terminal stations in Europe, and the Frankfurter Kreuz (Autobahn interchange) is the most heavily used interchange in continental Europe. Frankfurt is the only German city listed as one of ten Alpha world cities.
I am the West African Republic of The Gambia, proud host country for the Africa Travel Association 35th Annual Congress in May, 2010. I was named for one of the continent’s most navigable rivers. I occupy a narrow area on the Gambia River, surrounded by Senegal to the north, east and south. My western boundary along the Atlantic Coast offers visitors some of Africa’s most beautiful beaches with warm coastal waters and a tropical climate that is warm and humid year round.

My Vision 2020 Plan
A former British colony, I became independent on February 18, 1965. My President, H.E. Yaya A.J.J. Jammeh instituted “The Gambia Incorporated” a vision 2020 plan that aims to transform me into middle income status by offering a stable investment environment, an efficient banking sector, and a competitive private sector.

My Ethnic Roots
Many Americans know about me thanks to Alex Haley’s bestseller and epic television docudrama “Roots,” which tells the story of Kunta Kinte and his ancestral homeland of Juffureh. My population of 1.5 million includes the Mande, rural Mandinka and Atlantic peoples - Wolof and Fulani. They live harmoniously in mixed communities, freely exercising their religious and cultural traditions. My people are also widely recognized for their genuine friendliness and hospitality. While English is the official language, Wolof and Fulani are spoken in towns and Mandinka in rural areas. About 85% of my population is Muslim, with a fairly large Christian minority. My capital, main port and commercial center along the River Gambia is Banjul (300,000 population).

My Economy
Tourism and Agriculture account for 23% of my gross domestic product and employ 75% of my workforce. In 2000, around 100,000 tourists visited me, providing an estimated 10,000 Gambians with stable employment.

Gateway to Success
Fishing and manufacturing industries offer opportunities for expansion, with plastics and confectionaries as key products. I am an important entry point for goods to be distributed to neighboring countries - the logical “gateway” into West Africa for the trans-shipment of imports and exports.

My Rich Heritage
The World Heritage Committee Inscribes 24 New Sites on the World Heritage List, including the West African Republic of The Gambia. New natural sites include James Island and related locations, which present a testimony to the main periods and facets of the encounter between Africans and Europeans along the River Gambia, a continuum that stretched from pre-colonial and pre-slavery times to independence. The site is particularly significant for its relation to the beginning and the abolition of the slave trade. It also documents early access to the interior of Africa.

ABOUT THE AFRICA TRAVEL ASSOCIATION 35TH ANNUAL CONGRESS

NEW YORK, NY: Honorable Nancy Seedy Njie, The Gambia’s Minister of Tourism and Culture, and Edward Bergman, Executive Director of the Africa Travel Association (ATA), today announced that the Republic of The Gambia will host ATA’s 35th Annual Congress in the capital city of Banjul in May 2010.

“It is with great pride that we are once again partnering with ATA to invite the world to visit and explore The Gambia,” said Minister Njie. “The Gambian government places great priority on tourism, which has contributed significantly to our country’s growth and stability. We hope that the ATA Congress will help us continue to promote our country in new markets and attract new investment in the sector.”

Smiling Coast

The Gambia, known as the “Smiling Coast of Africa,” is famous for its luxurious beach resorts, quaint fishing villages and magnificent coastline, but there is much more to the affordable and safe West African country, including peaceful and friendly people, eco-tourism, sports fishing, bird watching and safaris, music, dancing and traditional wrestling matches, and visiting trans-Atlantic slave trade sites.

“The Gambia has made amazing progress with its travel and tourism industry by building public and private-sector partnerships, where the government creates the conditions for the private sector to invest in the industry,” said Bergman. “By combining The Gambia’s ability to attract tourist arrivals, particularly from Europe, with ATA’s ability to engage diverse travel professionals from around the world, particularly in North America and across Africa, the congress holds tremendous promise for turning tourism into a continental economic driver.”

ATA’s hallmark international event will be attended by African tourism ministers and industry experts representing tourism boards, travel agencies, ground operator companies, airlines, and hotels. Many participants from the travel trade media and the corporate, non profit and academic sectors are also expected to attend.

The four-day event will engage delegates in discussions on a range of industry topics, such as public-private sector partnership, marketing and promotion, tourism infrastructure development, industry trends, and social media. ATA member countries will organize a few evening networking receptions and ATA’s Young Professionals Network will meet with local hospitality professionals and students. For the second year, the congress will also include a marketplace for buyers and sellers specializing in Destination Africa. Delegates will also have the opportunity to explore the country on pre or post congress trips, as well as on the Host Country Day.

The Gambia, the smallest country on the African continent, has an estimated population of 1,600,000. With the exception of a small shoreline, the English-speaking country is surrounded by Senegal. Approximately 120,000 charter tourists, mainly from Europe, arrive annually. The Ministry plans to attract 500,000 arrivals by 2012, by targeting the US marketplace and “up-market” tourists, and to lengthen the tourist season to all year round. Public-private sector plans to increase the accommodation stock and to build a conference center are currently underway. The travel and tourism economy accounts for sixteen percent of Gambia’s GDP.

Encore from 1984

The 2010 Congress builds on the success of the West African country’s longstanding ties with ATA. In 1984, ATA held its ninth congress in Banjul, immediately following the association’s eighth congress in Cairo, Egypt. “ATA is excited to return to Gambia and anticipates that the 2010 congress will help Gambia reach its goal of bringing in more tourists and industry investment,” said Bergman. “We are especially grateful to our private sector partners, particularly Starwood Hotels, who have been instrumental in bringing the Ministry and ATA together to organize this important continental event.”

To prepare for the annual event, ATA will send a delegation to Banjul in November for a site inspection. During the visit, the team will meet with representatives from the public and private sectors and ATA-Banjul chapter members, as well as visit the proposed conference, lodging and entertainment venues.

ATA, in cooperation with the Egyptian Ministry of Tourism and the Egyptian Tourism Authority (ETA), organized the 2009 congress at the Conrad Cairo Hotel in Egypt in May 2009. Under the banner “Connecting Destination Africa,” the event brought travel specialists and experts to Egypt to help shape Africa’s tourism agenda during the global economic downturn.

EgyptAir served as the official congress carrier.

About the Africa Travel Association (ATA)

The Africa Travel Association (ATA) was established as an international travel industry trade association in 1975. AfriCan Leaders Speak in New York City at ATa’s Fourth Annual Presidential Forum on Tourism

The prestigious setting for the Africa Travel Association’s Fourth Annual Presidential Forum was New York University, (NYU) a private, nonsectarian, research university in New York City at its main campus in the Greenwich Village section of Manhattan. Founded in 1831, NYU is the largest private, nonprofit institution of higher education in the United States, with an enrollment of more than 50,000 students. The University counts 31 Nobel Prize winners and 16 Pulitzer Prize winners, among other achievements. It has proven to be an ideal location for an event of this kind, which provides a platform for the positive story of Africa Tourism and its position on the global stage in the new millennium. Seven African Leaders from Cameroon, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, Tanzania-Zanzibar, Zambia and the World Bank Share Upcoming Tours on Tourism

New York, N.Y., October 6, 2009 - The Africa Travel Association (ATA) held its fourth annual Presidential Forum on Tourism at New York University’s Africa House on September 26. Co-sponsored by South African Airways (SAA) and Tanzania National Parks (TANAPA), the forum focused on how tourism can drive economic growth even during challenging economic times.

“Whether its fostering growth through foreign exchange earnings and increasing state revenue; or improving people’s well-being in the areas of, job creation, income distribution and regional development, or even changing perceptions, Africa’s tourism industry requires attention, investment and partnership,” ATA Executive Director Edward Bergman said in his welcoming remarks. “With strong public-private partnerships, tourism can yield even greater benefits for each nation on its own and for the continent as a whole.”

After Bergman’s welcoming remarks, Tanzanian Ambassador to the United Nations, Obmeni Sefue, presented the Tanzania Tourist Board’s 2009 Print Media Award to journalist Eloise Parker for her coverage on summiting Mount Kilimanjaro.

Speaking on behalf of Tanzania, Obiageli Ezekwesili, Minister of Tourism of the Republic of Mozambique, Baba Hamadou, Minister of Tourism of the Republic of Cameroon, Anna A. Kachikho, MP, Minister of Tourism, Wildlife and Culture of the Republic of Malawi, Samia H. Suluhu, Minister of Tourism, Trade & Industry of the Revolutionary Government of Zanzibar, Dr. Kaire M. Mbuende, Ambassador of the Permanent Mission of the Republic of Namibia to the U.N., and Dr. Inonge Mbi-Kusuta-Lewanika, Ambassador of the Republic of Zambia to the U.S. In three years, the forum has become a high-light on the diplomatic and travel industry calendars, taking place in parallel to the UN General Assembly meetings in September. In 2006, Tanzania’s and Nigeria’s heads of state launched the inaugural event; in 2007, Tanzania’s and Cape Verde’s heads of states delivered the keynote addresses. They were joined by ministers from Benin, Ghana, Lesotho, and Malawi, as well as representatives from Rwanda and the Africa Union. In 2008, ministers from Tanzania, Zambia and Malawi participated.

This year, over 200 participants from the travel trade industry, media, diplomatic community, African diaspora, business sector, non-profit world, and academia and hospitality studies, participated in the event. About the Africa Travel Association (ATA) The Africa Travel Association is the premier global travel trade association promoting tourism to Africa and intra-Africa travel and partnership since 1975. ATA members include ministries of tourism and culture, national tourism boards, airlines, hotels, railroad companies, cruise lines, tour operators, travel trade media, public relations firms, students, NGOs, individuals, and SME’s. Africa and the World Culinary Travel Expo

Our residence, when we are not in Africa, is Vancouver, Canada, host city for the 2010 Olympic Winter Games and voted top city in the Americas by Conde Nast. For the 4th consecutive year, this Pacific Coast city (Canada’s banana belt,) will host the World Culinary Travel Expo, May 28th - 30th, 2010. From Vancouver, it’s a short drive to Seattle, home of the Boeing Aircraft Company and Bill Gates’ Microsoft Empire. Our marketers encourage African Tourism Ministries and many other friends in travel and tourism to attend this event. The exhibit rates are reasonable compared to many others. You will discover why Culinary Tourism should be a key part of your marketing mix for 2010 and beyond. This is an ideal place to market and sell to over 30,000 target culinary visitors face to face, to network and develop new business for your destination.

According to the event’s organizers you can demonstrate, launch and test market new products and services, generate news coverage by getting on the “media radar” and enhance brand building by creating or raising market awareness and demand for your products and services.

Beehive of activities

This comprehensive 3 day trade and consumer expo has a proven track record of attracting a targeted captive audience that is passionate about food and travel. What’s more, there will be opportunities to explore metro Vancouver and rich agricultural area of BC’s Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland: Activities can include gourmet food shopping; visits to farmers markets, wineries, orchards and food museums; sampling locally made specialty food and beverages; engaging in Agritourism; attending food, wine, beer and harvest festivals.

What is Culinary Tourism?

Culinary tourism represents an exciting new niche market that involves traveling to experience a destination through a variety of gastronomic activities. As you may be aware, a country’s culinary style reveals its history and culture, of which Africa is well bestowed. Food and travel go together naturally because everyone needs to eat. The culinary experience is a subset of Cultural Tourism, a leisure travel niche market that is capturing a fast-growing segment of the world’s travel industry. It is an economic vehicle to drive trade, create sustainable development and add social and cultural value to a community.

It is an innovative approach that can position your products and services, and establish a competitive edge. Culinary can be an important revenue generator for your company and country. Since everyone eats when they travel, experiencing a destination’s food is essential to understanding its social structure.

Market Surveys

• Culinary Tourism is emerging as an important component of the rapidly growing cultural tourism market. Canadian Tourism Commission report (2001).
• 27 million travelers, or 17% of American leisure travelers, involved in culinary or wine in the near future (60%) is significantly larger than those currently engaged. Tourism Industry Association (TIA) in partnership with Gourmet Magazine and International Culinary Tourism Association. Even though, the surveys were done in Canada, UK and US, the results represent a new and developing trend within the international travel industry. Globe-trotting gourmets are invited to take their taste buds on a world culinary tour.

Our Best of Africa Edition will catch the excitement as ‘World Cup Fever’ ignites the entire continent

By Jerry W. Bird

Growing up in Canada’s hotbed of soccer, Vancouver, BC, the world’s most popular game became my first team sport. I caught soccer fever overnight and before long was playing for teams in three different leagues in the same season. I just couldn’t get enough of it! This passion for soccer continued, yet my experiences pales in comparison with that of my oldest son, Ken, who I convinced to try out for the community team in Calgary, Alberta. He didn’t fill the nets or set the world on fire the first year, but with good coaching, increased confidence and a sudden growth in size, he gave our family a huge thrill when his team won the Canadian Championship in Toronto. Guess who was the team’s captain that year?

World Cup Edition
We have followed the World Cup for decades, but 2010 has a special significance, thanks to our magazine’s keen interest in Africa’s participation from contending teams, culminating in South Africa’s hosting of the FIFA World Cup. We have been planning a World Edition on this topic for several years and will be introducing the issue in digital format following the World Travel Market this November. A Gold Souvenir Edition, with outstanding photos of the games and other activities, will be printed and distributed next summer. Subscriptions and prices will be announced soon.

Fever in Cape Town
We plan to provide timely and useful information about South Africa Tourism plus events leading up to and following the 2010 World Cup to our readers and viewers worldwide. A good example is the impressive Green Point Stadium that is becoming part of the skyline of Cape Town with Table Mountain in the background. That was where Associate Editor Muguette Goufrani met Bishop Desmond Tutu, who along with Nelson Mandela is a great booster of the games. We’re asking our friend Daniel Dunn, an outstanding tour operator, and his colleagues at the Africa Travel Association’s Western Cape Chapter, to help with information on the best tours, accommodation, tickets and transportation - for which we will provide links via our two websites - www.africa ata.org/mag.htm - which features Africa and www.myhighways.com, with information and views from the world. Cape Town’s action plan Green Goal 2010 includes 43 projects relating to energy, waste, water, transport, hospitality and sustainable lifestyles. It is aimed at making the 2010 FIFA World Cup™ event as environmentally friendly as possible. http://www.capetown.travel/2010/Ambassador Radebe
Our new edition features Lucas Radebe, recently appointed as South African Tourism’s 2010 Ambassador to the World, a role Radebe is honored, proud and excited to play. “He has the stature and the global credibility this role demands. He is exceptionally well traveled globally, but his heart lies here in South Africa. He loves our destination and our people. He is a champion of South Africa’s ability to successfully host the World Cup.”

about the games
The 2010 World Cup Soccer series is taking place in South Africa from 11 June to 11 July. Our World Edition will tell you how to buy tickets, location of the World Cup Stadiums and what exciting World Cup tours are available. The entire country is involved in staging this great events, with the outline as follows: Johannesburg (15 games), Cape Town (9 games), Port-Elizabeth (8 games), Durban (8 games), Bloemfontein (6 games), Nelspruit (4 games), Rustenburg (5 games). Soccer is the most widely played sport in South Africa, which won the African Nations Cup on home turf in 1996. Over a billion people are expected to follow what will be the world’s biggest sporting event ever, a month long tournament involving the world’s top 32 soccer playing nations. It is organised by FIFA (Federation Internationale de Football Association). Over 160 national teams take part in the regional (Continental Zone) rounds to qualify as one of the 32 teams that will take part in finals. The first world cup soccer match kicked off on July 13th, 1930 with France beating Mexico 4 to 1. The winners since 1982 are as follows – Italy, Argentina, Germany, Brazil, France, Brazil and Italy:

Diski Dance: Appeal to Youth Soccer in the USA
In an announcement appearing on our websites, South African Tourism has partnered with U.S. Youth Soccer (the largest youth sports organization in the United States) and World Cup sponsor Coca-Cola, to spread soccer awareness via a fun Web video contest and ultimately bring an American youth soccer team to South Africa. The Diski dance is a new dance based on soccer moves that has been specially created by South Africa for the World Cup™ event ing the 2010 FIFA. A South African Tourism Plus event, the Diski Dance, is aimed at making the 2010 FIFA spectacular, but also as an awesome and amazing holiday destination.

“We are delighted to welcome Lucas on board,” said Didi Moyle, acting CEO at South African Tourism. “He has the stature and the global credibility this role demands. He is exceptionally well travelled globally, but his heart lies here in South Africa. He loves our destination and our people. He is a champion of South Africa’s ability to successfully host the World Cup.”

Radebe was introduced last night by Minister Marthinus van Schalkwyk, the Minister of Tourism, as South African Tourism’s 2010 ambassador to the world. Minister van Schalkwyk made the announcement at an event in Sandton where he also launched a Brand Messaging Book for Tourism for South Africans.

“Every four years we get the opportunity to host the FIFA spectacular, but also as an awesome and amazing holiday destination. We are truly privileged that a footballer of Lucas’ stature and a human being of his calibre has agreed to partner with us to grow excitement about our destination.”

We look forward to working with him as 2010 approaches to spread the message of the anticipation and optimism sweeping our country.

“Now, more than ever, it is important to be an optimistic, dedicated South African with a ‘can do’ attitude and few people embody this spirit better than Lucas. He possesses all the qualities demanded of an ambassador. He loves South Africa. He loves traveling in South Africa. He knows our destination well, and he is proud of being a South African. He is truly an inspiration,” the Minister said.

Radebe will work with South African Tourism between now and the end of the tournament to help deliver destination messages and to help grow interest in South Africa globally, not only as host of the FIFA spectacular, but also as an awesome and amazing holiday destination.

“Our new edition features Lucas Radebe,” said Didi Moyle, acting CEO at South African Tourism. “He has the stature and the global credibility this role demands. He is exceptionally well travelled globally, but his heart lies here in South Africa. He loves our destination and our people. He is a champion of South Africa’s ability to successfully host the World Cup.”

Radebe is honoured, proud and
Africa has waited a long, long time for the honour of hosting the world’s biggest sporting spectacular. I am excited at the impending reality of welcoming the world’s greatest footballers to my homeland. I am proud that South Africa will host hundreds of thousands of fans. I am honoured to be associated with South African Tourism and to be given an opportunity to work with them to raise the profile of my country not only as host of the 2010 FIFA World Cup, but also as the greatest holiday destination in the world."

Ten things you may (or may not) know about Lucas Radebe

1. He was born in Diepkloof, Soweto on April 12, 1969, one of a family of 10 children
2. He spent his young adulthood in the former homeland of Bophuthatswana where he started playing football to help him cope with boredom
3. He made his international debut playing for South Africa against Cameroon on July 7, 1992 and went on to earn 70 caps for South Africa
4. Kaizer Chiefs 'sold' Radebe to Leeds United in 1994 for £250,000
5. His nickname at Leeds, 'The Chief', was given to him by the fans in acknowledgement of his star defense player qualities

Last year a local brewery (near Leeds' home ground, Elland Road) asked for public suggestions for a new beer name. 'Radebebeer' was proposed by thousands in his honour.

8. He counts former president Nelson Mandela and Gary Player among his close personal friends
9. In December 2000, he received the FIFA Fair Play Award.

HAPPY RETURNS TO MOGADOR FOR FESTIVAL D’ESSAOUIRA GNAOUA, A MUSICAL BANQUET

By Jerry W. Bird

It’s been seven years since we first toured Morocco with the Ministry of Tourism as part of the official ATA media team. This time, I am pleased to say, our purpose was to open Africa Travel Magazine’s first office in Africa at Essaouira, a charming, laid back Atlantic Coast city, formerly known as Mogador. A world-class golf course development, with several multi-star hotels is well underway and many other attractions are on the horizon. Since arriving from Paris via Royal Air Maroc, we have visited Rabat, with brief stops at Safi and Al Jadda, spent several days in Casa blanca and several more in Marrakech, greeting old friends and making new ones. Our positive impressions were the new Autoroute and the start of a Tram line to the jet set of Europe, Africa and Middle East. Most North Americans have yet to really discover Morocco’s coastal resort cities - and that’s a prime opportunity for our magazine, read by travel professionals and their clients.

We are enjoying a nautical view of Essaouira’s historic seaport, once known as Mogador, from our dockside table at “Chez Sam.” Highly recommended by locals in the know, this charming waterfront restaurant is surrounded by fishing boats and marine activity. Men repairing fish-nets, shucking shrimp and sorting sardines, looming skeletons of boats under construction add to the scene. The interior of Chez Sam reminds me of Trader Vic’s, once a popular hang-out in our home port of Vancouver, and Ivar’s in Seattle. The fresh seafood, decor and atmosphere are magnificent and the impressive gallery of celebrity photos; Louis ‘Satchmo’ Armstrong, Stevie Wonder and others, attests to the fact that the owner comes from the world of jazz.

Sam and his huge, jet black dog Nikita joined our table a few days later, and thanks to that rendezvous, I was able to learn the history of this outstanding restaurateur and the origin of the Essaouira (Mogador) seaport’s most popular eatery. Freshness is the order of the day, every day at Chez Sam and also at the many outdoor stalls, perched side-by-side along the dock area. Each offers visitors fresh caught products from the sea to the table and each competes vigorously with its neighbour for our attention. Barkers, menu boards and tempting displays of fresh catch from the Atlantic is their marketing approach. I enjoyed a generous portion of sole fillet and fresh salad for less than five dollars U.S. My two colleagues split a large crab for a similar tab. Overhead a flotilla of sea gulls was dipping and diving against a background of crashing whitecaps, rocky outcrops and rugged remnants of the centuries old Portuguese fort that marks the city’s place in history. Some call this the “city of winds … and when we visited Essaouira earlier this same week, a minor storm was brewing. Gusts swept the area clear of sand and dust, the sky is ablaze with multi colored kites. Before I describe our latest activities, it’s time to reminisce with my earlier impressions.

Here we are, basking in the noontday sun on North Africa’s Atlantic Coast at Essaouira, Morocco, following a journey of discovery which began in the Imperial City of Fès and continued via Rabat, Casa blanca and Marrakech. In a few days, we will drive south to the resort city of Agadir, with its luxury beach front hotels and lavish casinos, catering to the jet set of Europe, Africa and Middle East.

Another friendly, convenient place to meet and Essaouira Cultural Center.

Flights were provided by the hotel’s in house tour services, which continued into the wee hours. For starters, the hotel’s beach side restaurant, moved to the hotel’s beach side restaurant, and the entire evening was unforgettable. We then tended their stalls near the far end of the crescent shaped beach, and the waves grew even more fierce as they pounded the shore. But today, near the end of December, the weather is as balmy as any spring shoreline. But today, near the end of December, the weather is as balmy as any spring

Doors of Hospitality

Another friendly, convenient place to meet is the Hotel des Isles. Next to the Medina and offers a full range of services. Since we spent almost two weeks in the immediate area, we are pleased to recommend a stay in Essaouira to any traveler looking for something different. MARRAKESH OFFERS A WORLD OF OPTIONS FROM RIADS TO 5 STAR LUXURY HOTELS AND MORE

by Muguette Goufrani

Marrakech will host the Morocco Travel Market from January 14-17, 2010- and it is always a winner of a location with delegates, thanks not only for the many great hotels, but for its wide array of riads and kasbahs, pictured on this page. While I was born in Morocco and began my career there with my father’s tour company and Royal Air Maroc, my return as part of the Africa Travel Association was a true rediscovery. Marrakech was ATA’s host city in 1996 and Fez had the honors in 2002. As Morocco’s third largest city and a bustling center of commerce, Marrakech is high on our list as an ideal convention site and place to visit.

Marrakech, while built as a fortification, surrounded by Médina, a walled city built centuries ago, is now in production. Hidden Treasures In the shadows of the Atlas Mountain Range on the city’s outskirts is a resort of true magnificence, the Amajena (below), which we plan to profile in our Morocco supplement now in production. The design and decor of this hotel are a celebration of the region’s nature, history and culture. The hotel is a true masterpiece of Moroccan architecture and design, and offers a unique attraction - magical Arabian surroundings within the Médina?

One of the most modern communities anywhere, with upscale shops, famous name hotels, leafy parks and tree-lined boulevards, I am looking forward to a return visit to La Mamounia Hotel (below right) this winter. It’s a meeting place of the world, where myself, friends and family spent many happy moments during my earlier career in Morocco. Other great hotels are profiled in our Morocco supplement. What is a Riad?

A traditional Riad is a Moroccan home or palace, which often includes an interior garden. The ancient Roman city of Volubilis, which we visited in 2002, during our conference in Fez, provides a reference for the beginnings of riad architecture. The design of these courtyard dwellings in the coastal regions of Morocco were an adaptation and modification of the Roman villa. When the Almoravids conquered Spain in the 11th century they sent Muslim, Christian and Jewish artisans from Spain to Morocco to work on monuments. These artisans brought with them the idea of arranging the rooms of the house around the central open-air courtyard that has become today’s riads. The riads were inward focused which allowed for family privacy and protection from the weather in Morocco. This inward focus was expressed in the central location of most of the interior gardens and courtyards and the lack of large windows on the exterior clay or mud brick walls. Entrance to these houses is a major transitional experience and encourages reflection because all of the rooms open into the central atrium space. In the central garden of traditional riads there are often four orange or lemon trees and possibly a fountain. The walls of the riads are adorned with tadelakt plaster and zellige tiles. The style of these riads has changed over the years, but the basic form is still used in designs today. Many riads are now used as hotels or restaurants.

Salon International de Tourism in Paris. After checking in at the Hotel Riad Shama, we took a walk through the souk, a huge marketplace with products and services of every description - and plenty of bargains awaiting your pleasure. Close by is Djemaa el Fna, one of the busiest market squares in Africa, with snake charmers, acrobats, story-tellers, dancers, and musicians.

Africa Travel Association Holds 34th Annual Congress in Cairo as Egypt’s Tourism Continues to Expand

Our Egyptian Experience included participation in the ATA 34th Annual Congress at Cairo’s Hotel Conrad, luxury accommodation in the heart of a great and historic city. The event was a huge success, with many top speakers, an enchanted evening at Cairo’s historic Citadel, with its panoramic view, and a dinner cruise on the Nile aboard the Maxim Floating Restaurant. Host Country Day featured the Egyptian Museum, Giza Pyramids, the Sphinx and Khan el-Khalili market.

Magical Media City
Moevenpick’s Hotel Cairo Media City is a luxury oasis resort located in a new community on Cairo’s outskirts. During our week-long stay as special guests, we had an opportunity to interview General Manager Amr Kallini and staff for online radio - an opportunity to learn why this outstanding resort won awards as the Best Conference facility in Africa and the Middle East. Excerpts from our series of radio interviews appears in our Moevenpick Africa Profile online and on air.

Cruising the Nile in Style
After an EgyptAir flight to Aswan, site of the famous High Dam, we boarded the Moevenpick M/S Royal Lily for an unforgettable Nile cruise to Luxor to the north. Fellow passengers and world traveler Barbara Crews from the USA described it as the finest riverboat they had ever been on. Hats off to Mahmoud Farouk and staff.

ATA Congress Highlights
The 34th Annual Congress of The Africa Travel Association (ATA) held in Cairo, Egypt, May 17 /21 brought together more than 300 travel industry professionals from the US, Canada and Africa including tourism ministers, tour operators, airlines, hoteliers, ground operators, as well as representatives from business, non-profit and development sectors, to address some of the challenges facing the travel, tourism, transport and hospitality industries across Africa. Held at the Conrad Cairo Hotel, the ATA Congress was hosted by the Hon. Zoheir Garaanah, Egyptian Minister of Tourism and Amr El Ezbay, Chairman, Egyptian Tourist Authority (ETA). In his opening remarks, Amr El Ezbay said that the ATA Congress presented an extraordinary opportunity for people to share information and ideas on developing and marketing the tourism products of Africa. “Until 20-30 years ago, Egypt was a one product destination, the Classic Egypt tour. But in the 1980’s Egypt started to diversify its product in order to retain its competitive edge, by developing resort tourism on the Red Sea, desert tourism and cultural tourism. This diversification led to dramatic demand and generated an increase of infrastructure from 18,000 rooms in 1982 to 210,000 rooms in 2008. Today, Egypt is striving to change its image even further by developing high-end resorts to appeal to the luxury market.” The success of Egypt’s diversification strategy is reflected in the country’s continued growth of tourism arrivals despite the challenges of the recent economic climate – realizing a 17% growth worldwide in 2008.

Powerful Presentations
Hon. Shamsa S. Mwanganga, Tanzania’s Minister of Natural Resources and Tourism and ATA President, Eddie Bergman, ATA Executive Director also spoke at the opening session of the ATA Congress. Other presenters included among others such high profile Egyptians as the Minister of Tourism, the ETA Chairman, Hisham Zaazou, First Assistant to the Minister of Tourism, and Ahmed El Nahas, Chairman Egyptian Tourism Federation. Ray Whelan, Official Representative for Accommodation, Ticketing, Hospitality and Technology for FIFA World Cups 2010 and Lisa Simon, President, US- based National Tour Association (NTA) were also speakers at the congress representing two major segments, Sports Tourism and American Tour operators respectively.

East Africa’s Karibu Fair celebrated its 10th Anniversary in 2009. Come again in June, 2010. Having attended this outstanding show two years ago, we highly recommend it to our readers worldwide. The Karibu Fair was held on the heels of two major events that brought the world to Arusha, the Safari Capital of Tanzania. We arrived on the scene in mid May to cover the Africa Travel Association’s 33rd World Congress and ended up staying almost a month getting to know the country and area like never before.

Karibu means Welcome

Following the ATA Congress and the popular Leon H. Sullivan Summit, we scored a “triple whammy,” by covering the Karibu Fair for three exciting days. The name is "triple whammy," by covering the Karibu Fair, the Tanzania Tourist Board and the Tanzania Association of Tour Operators. Having completed its 10th successful show, Karibu is one of only two major events for the travel trade based in Africa, the other being Indaba in Durban, South Africa. Now recognized as the major travel trade event in all of East Africa, Karibu has expanded from a local association with our friends at the Tanzania Tourist Board and the Zanzibar Association of Tourism Investors (ZATI) giving us a fond Karibu farewell by inviting us to a hospitality hour in their large Zanzibar section.

Solid Foundation

Based on the theme “Get Connected,” the Karibu Fair’s goals are as follows: Raise the show’s regional profile by promoting East African tourism to the global marketplace; Produce the premiere travel and tourism trade fair in East Africa; Bring all key industry stakeholders in East Africa together in one place, at one time; Create opportunities for international visitors and overseas tour agents to meet and network with members of the East African tourism industry; Bring new destinations, facilities and products to the attention of overseas tour agents; Facilitate opportunities for overseas tour agents to visit the national parks and properties; Generate direct spend in the local economy, including hotels, restaurants, transportation and parks; Create an enabling environment for business development; Assist development of small and medium enterprises; Build alliances with neighboring East African countries and key tourism stakeholders, through combined efforts to promote regional tourism.

What’s Next for Karibu?

Karibu Fair provides a venue for local and regional tourism products and services. You will not experience it all in a few short hours. We spent most of an entire day and returned twice for an encore. Among the exhibitors are tour operators, air and land transport providers, mountain climbing outfitters, wildlife lodges, hotels, camping and equipment manufacturers. We at Africa Travel Magazine are impressed with the Karibu Fair and are giving it global coverage through our award winning website and our magazine which reaches out to North America, Africa, Europe and around the world. Register live on the Karibu Fair website. Please click http://www.karibufair.com/flash/kbstand.swf to book online. For more information, visit www.africa-ata.org/mag.htm.
Cameroon’s theme, “Africa in One Country,” says it all - cultural variety, pageantry, panoramic scenery, and wildlife in its natural habitat. Serendipity brings a pleasant surprise around every corner, from Mount Cameroon and the balmy beaches of Kribi and Limbe, to Waza National Park and Lake Chad in the far north, on the doorstep of Africa’s Great Sahara desert. Cameroon is the home of colorful festivals year round. The Ngondo Festival in Douala, Cameroon’s largest city, is held annually for ten days, ending on the first Sunday in December. In the photo (left) two tribal experts collect and read a message from the water spirits. The scene opposite features a 65 man dugout race canoe, 30m in length. The canoe portrayed is the winning entrant from 2005. The smaller dugout carries divers, about to descend into the Wouri river waers to retrieve a message from the spirits. The spirit message, after being interpreted by the experts, is then delivered to a group of chieftains from Douala and area, sitting under a special canopy.

The Ngoun Festival is held every second year in December. The Sultan-King of Bamoun is sitting on his ornate throne, framed by huge elephant tusks. On the page opposite (lower row) the guard’s shield features a double headed serpent, which depicts the kingdom’s continuing vigilance in keeping its enemies at bay in a two front war. The next photo is of local officials in their colorful regalia. The final photo shows the guards and guests in line with the Bamoun palace in the background.

Venez découvrir le Cameroun: Toute l’Afrique dans un pays - une mosaïque culturelle et un paradis écotouristique

Yaoundé et Douala, deux principales villes du Cameroun, ont déjà abrité les rencontres de l’Africa Travel Association; et le slogan du Cameroun “Toute l’Afrique dans un pays,” en dit long. Ce slogan décrit la diversité culturelle, l’apparat, les paysages panoramiques et la faune dans son habitat naturel. Le don de faire des trouvailles vous gratifie d’un plaisir agréable d’un coin du pays à un autre; du Mont Cameroon et des plages douces de Kribi et de Limbé au Parc National de Waza, ainsi qu’au Lac Tchad dans l’Extrême-Nord, aux portes du grand désert africain du Sahara. Notre équipe de rédaction prépare actuellement un tiré-à-part de Africa Travel Magazine, qui présentera la culture camerounaise ainsi qu’un ensemble de photographies sur le festival du Ngoun et sur d’autres manifestations pittoresques qui se déroulent annuellement - c’est une raison suffisante pour laquelle cette édition aura un aspect conservateur.

Las Vegas is an outstanding host city for the travel industry, which is why it features THETRADESHOW, one of America’s biggest and best. The show moves to Orlando, Florida for 2010 and returns west in 2011. The show attracts participants from many countries, including those on the African continent and offshore islands. Our editorial team joined Ron and Sylvia Mracky two of the most active, outgoing members in our ATA Southern California Chapter. The four of us took turns looking after the exhibit and were joined later by Eddie Bergman, ATA Executive Director from New York head office. We enjoyed interviewing, meeting with and photographing many of the African delegates and exhibitors representing airlines and various regions of Africa and vowed to do our utmost to encourage even more African Travel Industry participation in 2010. Thanks to a special arrangement by the Africa Travel Association with Trade Show Management, ATA members receive a discount on exhibit space. Here are some important details about the event.

Facts worth knowing

THETRADESHOW, the #1 travel trade show in North America, connects thousands of travel sellers, destinations and travel related companies in one convenient and affordable location. As a travel retailer, attending this travel show, gives you the best opportunity to assemble a diverse, dynamic group of travel suppliers and destinations that will give you new, profitable business options to have at your fingertips when the deal is on the line. The 3-day travel show conference program is designed specifically for you. It offers comprehensive education and training to enrich your career and increase your sales.

By attending THETRADESHOW, you will gain the essential knowledge and expertise to make your travel business more profitable.

Show Program

The three-day travel trade show conference program is specifically designed to give exhibitors the greatest amount of time with travel retailers to generate new leads and establish new business relationships. AFRICA SHINES AGAIN IN 2010 - - AT ITB BERLIN, THE WORLD’S LEADING TRAVEL SHOW, MARCH 10-12

Our 14 year vision for an “Africa Travel Library,” that profiles each of Africa’s Big Five Sub Regions became a step further in 2009 thanks to our activities at ITB Berlin and Salon de Tourisme in Paris. We are now gearing up for an encore March 10-14, 2010.

Africa Travel Magazine presented previews of our World Editions from Northern, Southern, Eastern, Western and Central Africa. Our “Venues World Edition” is a focus on festivals and events. Why did our editorial team choose ITB Berlin for this debut? The reason is obvious. It has become the top choice of our friends in the Africa Travel and Tourism industry. We were able to fine-tune each World Edition in meetings with the many African exhibitors. As the event organizers say, “The whole world meets at ITB Berlin - people, working in the travel industry and consumers who want to learn more about travel destinations.” With 54 countries on the continent of Africa and its offshore islands - there’s a wide variety to choose from. ITB Berlin’s combination of trade and public exhibition and the biggest professional convention worldwide attracts tens of thousands of visitors, exhibitors and media.

About ITB Berlin

The exposition is located on the fairgrounds of Messe Berlin. With an outstanding program, 100 key events and a roster of highly ranked speakers, ITB is expanding its role as the leading expert think tank of the world’s travel industry. On the agenda:

ITB Future Day: The future in the fields of economy, society and travel patterns. Visionaries, lateral thinkers and futurists identify global megatrends and provide suggestions on how the travel and tourism industry should prepare for the challenges. ITB Hospitality Day: Focus on the hotel industry and environmental concepts affecting the hotel trade. ITB Aviation Day: Key issues in the global aviation industry. Commercial aviation’s impact on our climate. ITB Destination Days: Successful destination marketing.

ITB Tourism and Culture Day: Impact of cultural events on tourism. Cultural Tourism is a key facet of Africa Tourism. ITB Corporate Social Responsibility Day: Successful implementation of CSR in the travel industry. ITB Experts’ Forum Wellness: Tips on how to get well and stay healthy. ITB Business Travel Days: A platform for Travel Managers and MICE Planners. PhoCusWright @ ITB: Focus on Travel Technologies. Africa Forum: A look at Zero Footprint Tourism. Focus on the hotel industry and environmental concepts affecting the hotel trade. ITB Aviation Day: Key issues in the global aviation industry. Commercial aviation’s impact on our climate. ITB Business Travel Days: A platform for Travel Managers and MICE Planners. PhoCusWright @ ITB: Focus on Travel Technologies. Africa Forum: A look at Zero Footprint Tourism. Do travelers from industrial nations honor zero footprint tourism infrastructure? Does a zero footprint tourism infrastructure look like? Africa urgently depends on income from international tourism. One concern will be how to ensure that air travelers can still visit this long haul destination in the face of climate change. Best practice examples from other industries will be highlighted to show that zero footprint tourism is possible in Africa too.

About the Host City

Berlin is the capital city and one of sixteen states of Germany. With a population of 3.4 million within its city limits, Berlin is the country’s largest city. Located in northeastern Germany, it is the center of the Berlin-Brandenburg metropolitan area, comprising 5 million people. Berlin was successfully the capital of the Kingdom of Prussia, the German Empire, the Weimar Republic and the Third Reich. Following German reunification in 1990, the city regained its status as the capital of all Germany. Berlin is a major center of culture, politics, media, and science in Europe. Its economy is primarily based on the service sector, encompassing a diverse range of creative industries, media corporations, environmental services, congress and convention venues. The city serves as a continental hub for air and rail transport, and is one of the most visited tourist destination in the European Union. Other industries include traffic engineering, optoelectronics, information technology, vehicle manufacturing, biomedical engineering, and biotechnology. The metropolis is home to world-renowned universities, research institutes, sporting events, orchestras, museums and personalities. Berlin’s urban landscape and historical legacy has made it a popular setting for international film productions. The city is recognized for its festivals, diverse architecture, nightlife, contemporary arts and a high quality of living. Berlin has evolved into a global focal point for young individuals and artists attracted by a liberal lifestyle and modern zeitgeist. From the beginning, the two cities formed an economic and social unit. In 1307, the two cities were united politically. Over time, the twin cities came to be known simply as Berlin.

Museums

Berlin is home to 153 museums. The ensemble on the Museum Island is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and is situated in the northern part of the Spree Island.

I am Abuja, capital of Nigeria, Africa’s most populous country. I am confident about my future as a world center and as a magnet for cultural, adventure, educational and leisure tourism in all of Nigeria. My broad, well maintained paved streets, attractively landscaped boulevards and modern overpasses keep the traffic flowing smoothly, morning, noon and night. With my wide, cinematic vistas in every direction, you won’t feel hemmed in by gridlock. Being in Nigeria’s heartland, I am adjacent to Kogi, Niger, Kaduna and Nassarawa states. Carnival week in late November showcases the culture of all 36 states, with rhythmic, pulsating music, exotic tribal dances, durbars on horseback and camels from the far Sahara. It’s an unending kaleidoscope of colorful regalia, fun activities, parade floats, tribal masks and costumes unique to various states. Born in 1976, I am considered a model city for all of Africa, and one of the world’s handful of totally planned cities.

I am proud of my position as a magnet for world class meetings and events. For example I just finished receiving visitors from over 60 countries, including heads of state, at the Africa- Latin America Summit.

Visitors Comments

Here are some current comments about my lifestyle and attractions from a variety of U.S. visitors and residents from other countries:

“Originally from France, I have lived and taught school in Abuja for five years, and appreciate the easy going lifestyle and friendliness of the people. Here, we enjoy a comfortable year round climate and really appreciate the absence of mosquitoes and similar insect pests. It’s good to know that this city is virtually malaria free.”

“I was very impressed by the recent renovations that were being made at Nnamdi Azikwe International Airport and was pleased to learn that the Nigerian government was really serious about improving the infrastructure of its airports for incoming tourists and business people.”

“Your exciting Abuja Carnival rivals those in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and Mardi Gras in New Orleans. “. Many say, Latin America’s carnivals and music originated here in Nigeria.”

“My impression of Abuja was that it is truly a ‘City of the Future’ set in a scenic environment.” “Located approximately one hour by air from Lagos, Abuja has excellent conference and accommodation facilities.”

“Throughout Abuja there is much construction going on and the people truly exhibit an excitement about living in what is perhaps the most modern city in Africa.”

“We were quite surprised at the relative ease in our processing through immigration and customs. Much to our pleasure, we were told that both the Ministry of Aviation and the Ministry of Tourism have done an excellent job in alleviating the extreme bottlenecks that travelers were accustomed to experience upon arriving in Nigeria.”

Excerpts from The Guardian (Nigeria) by Andrew Iro Okungbowa and Stella Agbala

“Here in this country where we have well over 350 ethnic and linguistic groups, diversity of culture, diversity of language, diversity of foods, and unity in diversity. We owe it a duty to ourselves, the rest of Africans and to African in Diaspora to showcase what is authentically Africa and what is authentically ours.”

Former President Obasanjo said, “In the next four days, you will see the different forms of art, dances, different aspects of our way of life, boat regatta, masquerades, that would be breathtaking in one spot.”

Referring to the unique nature of the carnival, he added, “We have come together, all as Nigerians, in one spot; we have brought together what will take anybody who has to go over Nigeria days and even months in a space of few days.”

Dream Becomes Reality

The Carnival debuted in 2005 as part of the Government’s dream to promote Nigeria as a tourist destination and to expose Abuja, the Federal Capital Territory (FCT) to the world as a promoter of tourism as well as showcase to the world the cultural beauty and business opportunities that abound in the country. Last year’s celebration was almost marred by outcries and criticisms by some Nigerians, especially religious organizations, which saw the event as fetish and profane. But the President addressed these charges when he informed the nation that among others, it was meant to promote Nigeria and her people to the global community. With nothing short of joy and excitement, the President said the carnival is to be entrenched as a yearly celebration that would give people room to explore Nigeria. HOW WE SHOWCASE AFRICA TRAVEL, TRADE AND TOURISM “TEXAS STYLE” AT HOUSTON’S INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

By Muguette Goufrani

Our thanks to Hon. Tadelech Delacho, Ethiopia’s Minister of State for Culture and Tourism and our friend Gezahgen Kebede, US Consul for bringing us to a wonderful event for Africa, the USA - and the world. Africa Travel Magazine welcomes every opportunity to expand its circulation, having enjoyed outstanding success at ASTA’s Las Vegas Show, Adventure Travel World Summit near Vancouver, Canada, recent ATA events in Egypt, Ethiopia, Tanzania and Djibouti. Our participation with ATA goes back 14 years at major conferences hosted by over 20 African cities. However, the biggest audience we ever experienced was at Houston’s International Festival, a massive two week, outdoor extravaganza that covers 16 acres of parks “deep in the heart of Texas.” High-ranking government dignitaries and corporate leaders were on hand, plus over 300,000 of the public from Texas and neighboring states.

Out of Africa Theme

African countries represented was Ethiopia, honor its Millennium contributor to the American mosaic. Most prominent among the savoring the rich culture and heritage that has been such a huge celebration of Africa and Africans from the Diaspora. as we Texans know how to host a giant event, and this was a marvel out of Africa Theme

Texasans know how to host a giant event, and this was a marvelous, celebration of Africa and Africans from the Diaspora. as we savored the rich culture and heritage that has been such a huge contributor to the American mosaic. Most prominent among the African countries represented was Ethiopia, honor its Millennium.

Mr. Bird and I flew from Seattle via Denver, arriving in Houston in time for the opening luncheon, where the keynote speaker was Ambassador Andrew Young. We met this popular humanitarian leader and colleague of Martin Luther King two months later at the Leon H. Sullivan Summit in Arusha, Tanzania.

Ethiopian Contingent

To launch this prestigious event, Ethiopia sent a large contingent led by H.E. Mrs. Tadelech Dalacho, Ethiopia’s State Minister of Culture and Tourism (above right) plus our colleagues from Ethiopian Airlines, City of Addis Ababa and the Ethiopian Tour Operators Association, led by its President Mrs. Kidan Ghiorgis.

Ethiopia On the Cultural Stage

Showcasing Ethiopia was a dazzling array featuring traditional arts and crafts, textiles, food, music and fashions. Ethiopia is recognized worldwide as the birthplace of coffee, which was available for visitors to sample and purchase. Ethiopia’s National Theater Company thrilled the packed audiences at each performance. Likewise the impressive Ethiopian Designer Fashion Show. Houston’s International Festival was presented to create an opportunity for Ethiopians to introduce their varied products to the travel industry and to people at all levels. By meeting the public in such numbers over two weeks, Ethiopians learn how to be competitive in the North American market.

America’s 4th Largest City

In mid week, we joined the Ethiopian delegation for a visit to the Museum of Natural Science, where Ethiopia’s Lucy has been the star attraction. Others from our party were guests at the National Air and Space Administration complex. The week’s highlight, was the Mayor’s Gala Dinner, a grand affair, where, among others, we were introduced to the President’s brother, Neil Bush. Houston is America’s fourth largest city and a hub of international commerce.

For years its leaders have focused their attention on making their city not only a great place to live, but an outstanding place to visit. Houston is a vibrant international city that heartily enjoys its tradition of being a place of firsts. General Sam Houston, the city’s heroic namesake, was the first president of the Republic of Texas.

Ethio-American Activities

For many years we have worked in close touch with Ethiopia’s High Commissioner in the USA, Mr. Gezahgen Kebede, founder of the The Ethio-American Trade and Investment Council (EATIC). Based in Houston, it is a non-profit, non-partisan, tax-exempt organization dedicated to strengthening and facilitating trade and investment between Ethiopia and United States of America. For over 15 years EATIC has played an active role in getting many American business communities to view the Ethiopian investment and tourism opportunity first hand. Mr. Kebede invited Ethiopian private and public business sectors to participate, and extended an invitation for Africa Travel Magazine’s Publishers to cover the exciting activities on behalf of the travel and tourism industries. It was a sincere pleasure and a great honor. This event was timely, since Ethiopia is the first country to featured in our Best of Africa Library of books and magazines.

Tanzania will host the fifth International African Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference, October 25-30, in Dar es Salaam and Zanzibar, marking the first time it has convened on the continent of Africa. The conference title, “An Africa home coming: Exploring the origin of African Diaspora and transforming Culture Heritage Assets into Tourism Destinations,” celebrates the linkages of people of African descent from throughout the world. The Tanzanian government is planning a series of programs, events and tours showcasing the vast heritage tourism products and potential of their historic lands.

Ivy and Slave Route

A highlight of the fall conference will be the launch of Tanzania’s new heritage trail, “The Ivy and Slave Route”. This route provides a first – ever journey to sites, towns and terrain retracing the Arab Slave Trade in Tanzania and East Africa where more than five million Africans were captured, enslaved and shipped to the Middle East, India, Asia and West, many perishing before reaching their final destination.

Danny Glover, actor, producer and honorary chair of the ADHT Conference observes: “By convening the ADHT Conference in Tanzania, we will offer a rare glimpse into the Arab Slave Trade of Eastern Africa, a major part of worldwide enslavement of Africans that many of us in the West are not familiar with.

Bagamoyo

From the Slave Markets of Bagamoyo (translated: Point of despair) to the slave chambers of Mwangapwane Beach, our delegates will be able to barbary of slavery and cerebrate the struggle for liberation that is also a part of Tanzania’s rich tradition”. The African Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference is open to the public and especially Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference Tanzania’s rich tradition”. The African Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference is open to the public and especially Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference and tourism professional.

Five Exciting Themes Anchor 2009 Conference

- Historical Accuracy and Perspective in Traditional and Contemporary Heritage Interpretation
- Telling the Story: Cultural Education, Expression and Industries Development
- Partnership Creation and Private Sector Participation in Heritage Destination Development
- Identifying Resources for Infrastructure and Heritage Site Development
- Communications: Marketing and Networking for Global Visitor Attraction

If you are interested in addressing the conference on any of these exciting topics, please contact Gaynelle Henderson-Bailey, Ph.D., President, Henderson Travel / Henderson Associates, and Executive Director, ADHT Conference at diaspora@hend.com.

WCM New ADHT Partner

World Conference of Mayors, Inc. Founder and Secretary-General, the Honorable Joey Ford announced earlier this week that WCM would become an ADHT partner, and convene a special set of sessions and workshops for its members during the 5th International ADHT Conference. “On behalf of Mayor Ron Davis, WCM President, our Board and fellow Mayors from around the world, I wish to thank ADHT for hosting this historic conference. I am extremely honored and excited to be traveling to beautiful Tanzania. Though I have been fortunate to travel all over the world and throughout Africa, this will be my first visit to East Africa, the Cradle of Humanity. Tourism development is one of the main objectives of this conference, and as we know Tourism is vital to all municipalities, and directly in line with our aims of the World Conference of Mayors.”

ADHT looks forward to working with Mayor Ford, President Ron Davis and the WCM membership in this important transnational heritage tourism initiative.

Tanzania’s Tourism is Booming

Tanzania’s tourism is booming. According to the Governor of the Bank of Tanzania, Prof. Benno Ndulu, Tourism, earning $1 billion USD, now contributes nearly triple the GDP of Agriculture, which has been the leading contributor to the East African country’s coffers for most of its history. According to the Honorable Mme. Shamsa S. Mwanganga, Tanzania’s Minister of Natural Resources & Tourism, “Estimates are that more than 750,000 tourists are expected to arrive in the country this year, bringing in about $950 million. We attribute this growth to several factors, not the least of which is that Tanzania has a stable and peaceful environment with a democratically elected government.

The fact that President George W. Bush spent four of the six days on his recent African tour in Tanzania speaks for itself about the safety and stability of the country, as well as about the visionary leadership of his host, H.E. Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, President of the United Republic of Tanzania.

Increased air access, with many carriers now flying direct to Tanzania, new luxury hotels on the Mainland and Zanzibar, improved infrastructure and tarmac roads on safari circuits are also major factors contributing to Tanzania tourism’s success story.

Peter Mwenguo, Managing Director, Tanzania Tourism Board, noted that these improvements together with the diversification of the tourism product adds to the existing allure of Tanzania’s unspoiled wildlife, seven World Heritage Sites, unsurpassed wildlife, seven World Heritage Sites, the world’s highest mountain, Mount Kilimanjaro, and its neighbor Zanzibar.

On this page is a selection of photos received via Sandy Dhuyvetter of TravelTalk Radio on behalf of Ali Liaquat of Djibouti, whose Africa Peace Caravan began at Arusha, Tanzania and will end up in Cairo, Egypt for the ATA 34th Congress. Here are Ali’s latest comments: “I was waiting and dreaming since 1998 to travel in Sudan. At that time, it was impossible for me to get a visa and advice from diplomatic authorities, so I had to cancel my trip. In 2003, I tried a second time to reach Sudan when I organized a journey which was joining Brussels to Djibouti by the road. I got the visa for Sudan but I had to cancel in Tunis because of other unfortunate reasons after 20 days of travel. With ATA and the Africa Peace Caravan, I tried my third chance to go in Sudan. We heard a lot of negative things about Sudan with media, and some people advised us to avoid going there. But we decided to go - spent 20 days in Sudan where I realized my dream. Everything was difficult at the beginning, we were waiting a lot of time after asking our visas without any news from the Sudan Embassy. We were not sure that we could get it and even thought to cancel our trip to Sudan. We finally got our visas after a two-months waiting. When we arrived at the border at Galabat, everything was different. We were taken into account, as we were never been in any other country before, as well by the authorities of Customs and Immigration, as by the Sudanese population. We were so surprised that each person that we met, young, old, children’s, workers of the Government or not, saying to us “You are welcome in Sudan.” Everyone wanted to help and paid attention on our needs. At the border, two military joined us in the Caravan to go the next city. Arriving there, they came down from the car and a Police car escorted us until Gedaref. It was a real Olympic Torch relay as we expected and described in the feedback from Africa Peace Caravan. We thought in the beginning that this escort was to watch me. We understood quickly that it was to protect me in the border zone, as it is a sensitive area of the country and to help us in the case that we have a mechanic problem or any one else other difficulty. When we arrived in Gedaref, a delegation from the Ministry of Tourism was waiting us at hosted warmly at the checkpoint police before coming in the city. They invited us for a lunch and organized a visit of Gedaref. In the afternoon, we left Gedaref for Wad Medani. But at 7pm o’clock at 6 km before arriving in the city we broke down the clutch cable. Fortunately we were immobilized in a filing station. People came towards us by saying “You are welcome in Sudan. Leave you car here for the moment and go to have your dinner. We will send to you a mechanic tomorrow morning”. We spent our night in the filing station by sleeping on the roof of the Caravan. The morning of the day after, the mechanic arrived to fix the clutch cable. But it was badly repaired and we knew that it would break down later. In fact, when he will go back up the cable, it broke down. We were afraid that the cable became to short if he cut it a second time. I preferred by security to alert our Sudanese contact from the Police station to go to Khartoum. We arrived at Khartoum on a week-end so we were hosted by a friend from the French Embassy that we met in Addis Ababa and his colleague and by the Ambassador of the Republic of Djibouti. The Ambassador of Djibouti organized a meeting for us with the Federal Ministry of Tourism of Sudan and they invited us for a visit of the city during two all days. The final day, we met an old colleague from the French Legion, who is now a Security officer at the United Nations. He invited us to stay with him and his family for our last night in Khartoum and he escorted us until the Police of Khartoum checkpoint. When we arrived at Atbara, a delegation of the Ministry of Tourism waited us to assist us in their Town.

Quick now! What are the facts about Zanzibar?

• Zanzibar is popularly known as the “spice islands.”
• Zanzibar is located about 30 K off the coast of mainland Tanzania in the Indian Ocean.
• Zanzibar is actually an archipelago with the two main Islands of Zanzibar (also known as Unguja, the larger one) and Pemba (the smaller of the two).
• Zanzibar was incorporated into the United Republic of Tanzania in 1964.
• Zanzibar, which in 1992 had only 723,300 people, does have its own democratically elected president and government that run the internal affairs of the Islands.
• Zanzibar’s Serena Inn on the Stone Town waterfront is a splendid example of the careful preservation of historic buildings. This project undertaken by the Aga Khan Fund for Economic Development, owner and manager of the Serena Hotels, involved the restoration and rehabilitation of two historic buildings, the Old Exotels Building and the Chinese Doctors’ Residence.
• Zanzibar has the largest number of carved doors in East Africa.
• Zanzibar’s Stone Town has 50 mosques and four Hindu temples.
• The House of Wonders is one of the first buildings in East Africa to have electricity and Stone Town’s oldest existing building.

In 1987, the Stone Town Conservation Authority was created to provide strict guidelines for architectural design and materials used in all renovations of public and privately owned buildings.
• Zanzibar is the world’s oldest functioning Swahili city.
• Zanzibar has seen an influx from the British, Dutch, Portuguese, Egyptians, Phenicians, Assyrians, Indians, Chinese, Persians, Arabs and Swazis at various times in its history.
• Zanzibar offers the visitor a variety of pristine beaches and stunning coral reefs.
• Zanzibar’s Muslim worshippers, during daylight hours of Ramadan lunar month, may not eat, drink, smoke or have sex.
• Exempt only are the sick, young children and travelers.
• The earliest visitation to Zanzibar was in the 8th century, when the Arab traders arrived.
• Zanzibar’s oldest remaining building is the 11th century mosque at Kizimkazi.
• The name Swahili comes from the Arabic word sawalihi which means “coast”.
• Zanzibar named Best Island Destination in Africa and Middle East
• Zanzibar, the “spice islands” of the Indian Ocean, and part of Tanzania, was named by the Travel+Leisure Magazine’s readers as the highest-ranking Island in Africa and the Middle East in the World’s Best Awards Readers’ Poll.
• Zanzibar lures the American traveler, not just because the name itself conjures up a mystical and romantic image, but also because it is known as a peaceful, stable and hospitable island, just like mainland Tanzania.

Zanzibar Swings Year Round, with Its Art, Festivals, Cultural Treasures, Spices and Swahili Hospitality.

The name Swahili comes from the Arab "spice islands." Zanzibar lures the American traveler, not just because the name itself conjures up a mystical and romantic image, but also because it is known as a peaceful, stable and hospitable island, just like mainland Tanzania.

Fun Festivals Zanzibari Style

"Zanzibar," the name itself conjures up a mystical and romantic image, consists of Unguja (known as Zanzibar Island), Pemba and some 50 smaller surrounding island and islets. Already popular for its beaches, water sports, scuba diving (using environmentally-friendly equipment), underwater photography, reef watching, dolphin watching and snorkeling, Zanzibar is now focusing on promoting its many year-round festivals showcasing the diverse cultures and history of Tanzania’s Swahili coastal islands.

What makes Zanzibar’s festivals unique is in the context of a broader cross-regional network which links festivals, venues and promoters, performing artists, music institutions and related organizations around Africa, the Indian Ocean and beyond. Busara Promotions’ main event is the Sauti za Busara Swahili Music Festival, held annually in Stone Town, Zanzibar each February.

Swahili Encounters

Another of Busara’s principal activities is the Swahili Encounters project. The mission of Swahili Encounters is “to encourage audiences to celebrate pluralism of cultural and religious diversity; to promote and develop opportunities for musicians and performing artists along the Swahili coast and islands to connect, learn and perform together; and to develop regional artistic cooperation, for the social, cultural and economic growth of East Africa and the Swahili region.” Keep in touch with events and activities in Zanzibar on www.africa-ata.org/zanzibar.htm.

Zanzibar International Film Festival’s Spectacular Settings
Showcase High Quality African Cinema, Music and Arts

Danny Glover’s “Toussaint” opened this year’s Festival.

Stone Town, the Festival’s venue in Zanzibar, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, providing an exotic setting for the 10 days of festivities. ZIFF has captivated successful followings of international film and music, students of African culture past and present, and travelers interested in arts-centered fun for over a decade. Originally called the Festival of the Dhow Countries, ZIFF is now not only the largest annual event in East Africa, it is truly one of the most spectacular settings for cinema and arts lovers attending the Festival of the Dhow Countries, ZIFF.

Zanzibar of history impregnated by traces of thousands of visitors.” “Visitors are attracted to the Zanzibar International Film Festival for its outdoor setting, which is unique to celebrate the unique cultural heritage of Africa and the Dhow countries of the Indian Ocean region and their global Diaspora,” says ZIFF’s Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Martin Mhando. “And then to enjoy the charm of Stone Town and the miles of white sandy beaches of Zanzibar and Pemba.”

ZIFF’s major outdoor performances take place in the city’s Old Fort, featuring an ancient amphitheatre; others occur in the House of Wonders and Zanzibar’s Museum of History and Culture. There will also be street performances, including story telling, live music and dance, art exhibits, and a range of film and video industry workshops, seminars, screenings, and social events.

About Stone Town

Stone Town is a place of festivals, from music to movies to dance. It has been selected as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, based on the fact that it is a “fine example of the earliest model of trading towns of East Africa. It retains its urban fabric and townscapes virtually intact and contains many fine buildings that reflect its particular culture, which has brought together and homogenized disparate elements of the cultures of Africa, the Arab region, India, and Europe over more than a millennium.” Retaining much of its 16th Century architecture, one can walk winding streets and stroll to the former Sultan’s Palace, the House of Wonders Museum, the Portuguese Fort and Gardens, and the Turkish Baths. Working plantations outside of the city produce spices including vanilla, nutmeg and cinnamon.

Galaxy of Stars

Stars attending the festival will include Danny Glover, whose film “Toussaint” will open the Festival, Charles Burnett, star of the expected hit “Namibia”, and Mexican actor/singer Gael Bernal Garcia. The event’s theme this year is “Media, People and Environment.”

For the first time ever at a film festival, ZIFF 2009 will present four feature films directed by African women directors (from Zambia, Uganda, Sudan and South Africa). In total, 24 African directors and 8 festival directors from world film festivals are expected to come together in Stone Town for this year’s festival. In the musical realm, there will be a “Reggae Sunsplash” theme, with bands from the African continent combining with those from Australia and the Netherlands in a tribute to the late Jamaican reggae artist, Bob Marley.

Tourism Minister Hassan

There is no question that the ZIFF Festival can only take place in Zanzibar. The Hon. Samia Hassan, Zanzibar’s Minister for Tourism, Trade and Investment said, “The Zanzibar International Film Festival and its rich cultural diversity reflects the essence of Zanzibar itself, a Zanzibar of dreams, of journeys yet to be undertaken and the Zanzibar of history impregnated by traces of thousands of visitors.” “Visitors are attracted to the Zanzibar International Film Festival for its outdoor setting, which is unique to celebrate the unique cultural heritage of Africa and the Dhow countries of the Indian Ocean region and their global Diaspora,” says ZIFF’s Chief Executive Officer, Dr. Martin Mhando. “And then to enjoy the charm of Stone Town and the miles of white sandy beaches of Zanzibar and Pemba.”

Working plantations outside of the city produce spices including vanilla, nutmeg and cinnamon.

Founded in the 16th century as a Portuguese trading post, Stone Town was given to the Sultan of Oman in the 19th century. It became a major center of the East African ivory and slave trade. In 1890, it became the capital of the new British protectorate of Zanzibar, which also included the island of Pemba. In 1963, Zanzibar became an independent republic, with Stone Town remaining the capital. When Zanzibar merged with Tanganyika in 1964, it became part of today’s democratic United Republic of Tanzania.

Zanzibar Festival Tours

The official tour operator for ZIFF is Zanzibar Festival Tours. It offers a 12-night program to the Festival from June 26-July 8, including expert guides, festival performances, exploration of Stone Town, trips to Prison Island beach, with its century old tortoises, spice plantations, Zanzibar Forest, home to rare monkeys, antelopes and birdlife, the Mbweni ruins, which includes an exotic botanical garden and the famed Mbweni Ruins Hotel.

About ZIFF

The Zanzibar International Film Festival is organized annually as a non-profit organization whose goal is to protect and conserve the rich cultural heritage of the African region and its Diaspora as well as showcasing the works of modern contemporary artists.

In no other festival is there such a unique chance to learn about Africa’s cultural past and present in such a relaxed and exotic setting.

About Zanzibar

Zanzibar is part of the East African United Republic of Tanzania. It consists of the Zanzibar Archipelago in the Indian Ocean off the coast of the mainland. There are numerous small islands and two large ones: Unguja (the main island, informally referred to as “Zanzibar”), and Pemba.

Getting There

A 15 minute flight from Dar es Salaam, or a two hour boat ride, Zanzibar’s East coast, has beautiful coral reefs and sand bars revealing small pools of starfish, minnows, and anemones. Up north, ocean swimming, smooth beaches and white sand make for dazzling days in the sun. The port city of Stone Town dominates the west coast. The beaches of Mangapwani, where former slave caves are visible at low tide and nearby Bububa are less than half an hour’s drive away. The Chole Island Marine Park is just off Stone Town, as are Prison, Grave, and Snake Islands.

On the south coast of Zanzibar lies the Menai Bay Conservation Area, a sea turtle protection area for the endangered species that come to breed on the island. Roads to the southeast coast take visitors through the Joani Forest, home to Zanzibar’s rare Red Colobus monkeys and a number of other primate and small antelope species.

About Tanzania

Tanzania, the largest country in East Africa, is focused on wildlife conservation and sustainable tourism, with approximately 28 % of the land protected by the Government. It boasts 15 National Parks and 32 game reserves. It is the home of the tallest mountain in Africa, the legendary Mt. Kilimanjaro; The Serengeti, named in October, 2006, the New 7th Wonder of the World by USA Today and Good Morning America; the world acclaimed Ngorongoro Crater, often called the 8th Wonder of the World; Olduvai Gorge, the cradle of mankind: the Selous, the world’s largest game reserve; Ruaha, now the largest National Park in Africa; the spice islands of Zanzibar; and seven UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Most important for visitors, the Tanzanian people are warm and friendly, speak English, which together with Kiswahili, are the two official languages: and the country is an oasis of peace and stability with a democratically elected and stable government.

Africa Travel Magazine has been an enthusiastic supporter of the International Institute for Peace Through Tourism and its founder Louis D’Amore, since the institute’s debut in our editor’s home town of Vancouver, BC, Canada. During these decades, IIPT has staged a series of important conferences and summits, several of which were hosted by African destinations, including Nelspruit, South Africa, Dar es Salaam, Tanzania and Kampala, Uganda. The Africa series are partnered by the African Travel Association, and our magazine has covered each event in depth, with attendance by one or more of our editorial group. OurVenues World Edition will keep the magazine’s readers IIPT agenda.

The following is some background information and contacts.

Mission Statement
The International Institute For Peace Through Tourism (IPT) is a not for profit organization dedicated to fostering and facilitating tourism initiatives which contribute to international understanding and cooperation, an improved quality of environment, the preservation of heritage, and through these initiatives, helping to bring about a peaceful and sustainable world. It is based on a vision of the world’s largest industry, travel and tourism - becoming the world’s first global peace industry; and the belief that every traveler is potentially an “Ambassador for Peace.”

A primary goal of IIPT
IPT enjoyed a banner year highlighted by a number of significant events and growing partnerships. Highlight of the year was our 4th IIPT African Conference organized in partnership with the UN World Tourism Organization (UNWTO), World Bank, United Nations Environment Program (UNEP) and Africa Travel Association (ATA), and hosted by the Ministry of Tourism, Trade and Industry, Uganda under the patronage of H.E. President Yoweri Kaguta Museveni. More than 400 delegates from 33 countries participated in the conference “Building Strategic Alliances for Sustainable Tourism Development, Peace, and Reconciliation on the African Continent.”

Peace Park Program
Emphasis was also given to the IIPT Global Peace Parks Program under the leadership of Richard Kuegeman. Our goal is 2010 IIPT Peace Parks circling the earth by 2010 – the last year of the UN Decade of Peace and Non-Violence for the Children of the World. As part of this initiative, IIPT commemorated the 15th anniversary of “Peace Parks Across Canada” with cities and towns across Canada re-dedicating parks to peace. IIPT is also partnering with the Peace Caravan Project of Marla Mossman to dedicate IIPT Peace Parks in cities and towns along the Silk Road.

Other initiatives included a World Peace Tour to the Himalayan Kingdom of Bhutan in partnership with Sacred Himalaya Travel, participation in the Conde Nast World Savers Awards, the SKAL World Congress, Dr. Omar Moubakkir’s installation as a Lector, Tourism for Peace at CHN University in the Netherlands; and partnerships in the 3rd African Diaspora Heritage Trail Conference and THETRADESHOW.

Finally, IIPT was again featured on Opening Day of World Travel Market with a debate on the role of Tourism in “Building Bridges of Understanding Between Civilizations, Cultures and Religions.” We look forward to continued collaboration with each of you in “Building a Culture of Peace through Tourism.”

Peace Parks Canada
To Comemorate 15th Anniversary
Fifteen Years ago as Canada celebrated its 125th Birthday, some 400 cities and towns across Canada dedicated a Park to Peace - with most parks dedicated at Noon local time, October 8th, as the National Peacekeeping Monument was being unveiled in Ottawa. “Peace Parks Across Canada” was conceived and organized by the International Institute for Peace through Tourism (IPT) in collaboration with “CANADA 125” and the National Capital Commission. Supporters included the Federation of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities, Canada Parks and Recreation Association, the Tourism Industry Association of Canada, Heritage Canada, World Wildlife, Fund Canada, Friends of the Earth, Canadian Society of Landscape Architects, and local Rotary Clubs all across Canada.

WHAT A MEMORABLE WEEK FOR TOURISM TO AFRICA!

By Jerry W. Bird

After 30 years UN Habitat returned to its launching pad, the seaport city of Vancouver, British Columbia Canada. The crowd was estimated at 10,000 plus and it certainly seemed so, judging by the heavy attendance at many sessions. During the week we had the pleasure of taking two groups of mayors, representing different African countries, on cultural tours of Vancouver and the University of British Columbia. It’s was a special way for us to repay the wonderful hospitality we have enjoyed in 14 years with the Africa Travel Association as its media voice in North America and worldwide. Africa well represented

With some 10,000 participants from over 100 countries, the Third Session of the World Urban Forum paved the way for a new drive forward on the international urban agenda in a world of rapidly growing cities. Just as the Habitat I Conference in Vancouver in 1976 placed local community concerns on the international agenda and highlighted the critical importance of inclusiveness, the Forum in Vancouver, 30 years later, lived up to its promise of moving ideas to action. It symbolized inclusiveness, with balanced participation from public, private and civil society sectors.

Habitat Concerns

The twin goals of Habitat are “Adequate shelter for all” and “sustainable human settlements development in an urbanizing world.” The “Global Village” is well represented, this week - with Africa making a particularly strong showing. As publishers of Africa Travel Magazine and related travel business media features, we were extremely pleased and honored to be able to network with so many of our African colleagues. We will introduce key African delegates and speakers to you via radio interviews and photos as this important feature unfolds. Our editors encountered another big surprise on arrival at the Expo Media Center, where many African print and broadcast media were present, giving us ample opportunity to exchange views and share ideas. Many delegates requested complimentary copies of Africa Travel magazine. These issues from our archives cover a wide range of African destinations and topics.

The impact of Urban Development on African Tourism goes without saying - and this event, along with Globe 2006 World’s Largest Enviro-Business Expo, also in Vancouver, open up a broad avenue for our editorial group. The week started off with a keynote address by Hon. Stephen Harper, Prime Minister of Canada (left), followed by Vancouver Mayor Sam Sullivan, and BC Premier Gordon Campbell. Africans have made a strong showing at this world class event, as they have at the 2006 World Cup in Germany. On day four we attended the Mayors Roundtable at Simon Fraser University’s downtown campus, and later at the World Mayors Reception we had a brief dialogue with host former Mayor Sam Sullivan, who has a high profile worldwide. We finished off an outstanding day at a special evening event hosted by Kenya, networking with dignitaries from cities and the federal scene.

Flashback: December 3 to 5, 2008 marked Africa’s first Travelers’ Philanthropy Conference, rounding out a landmark year for Arusha, Tanzania, the world’s Safari Capital. Africa Travel Magazine had the privilege of full participation at three prior events in 2008 and can vouch for how well Tanzanians support such events. The whole idea of “Philanthropy in Tourism” excites us - and this outstanding event brings it all together.

Making Travelers’ Philanthropy Work for Development, Business, and Conservation
Tanzania, a world leader in ecotourism, and Arusha as the gateway to Mt. Kilimanjaro offer an ideal venue for this conference. The Tanzania conference built upon the previous international Travelers’ Philanthropy conference held at Stanford University in the USA in 2004. This is a wrap-up and outline of what is planned for the future.

Conference in Tanzania Exceeds Expectations
Over 225 delegates attended the 2008 Travelers’ Philanthropy Conference held in Arusha, Tanzania, making it the largest and most diverse conference ever held on this theme. The 3-day conference, at which Nobel Laureate Dr. Wangari Maathai, founder and leader of Kenya’s Green Belt Movement, gave the opening keynote address, also marked the first time that travelers’ philanthropy had been addressed in Africa. Travelers’ philanthropy is a relatively new concept, but it is rapidly growing into a worldwide movement and becoming part of the definition of responsible travel. At its core, travelers’ philanthropy is about tourism businesses and travelers ‘giving back’ to tourism destinations by providing financial support, expertise, and material contributions to local projects and community initiatives. Tourism frequently takes place in biodiversity and culturally rich but economically poor regions of the world. “We are thrilled with the results of the conference. Not only did more delegates attend than we had expected, but the conference is also generating a number of new educational materials that will help, to strengthen travelers’ philanthropy initiatives,” says Martha Honey, Co-Director of the Center on Ecotourism and Sustainable Development (CESD) that organized the conference and runs the Travelers’ Philanthropy Program. “These materials will help provide, for the first time, the tools to help tourism businesses and host communities initiate and effectively carry out travelers’ philanthropy projects.”

In the wake of the conference, CESD plans to:
• Produce a new handbook “How to Create a Travelers’ Philanthropy Program,” based on a ‘short course’ given at the conference. This handbook, which is being produced together with the Basecamp Foundation, will be launched in March at ITB Berlin, the world’s major travel show.
• Create a CD with the conference proceedings, presentations, photos, and other documents, as well as post them online.
• Promote and distribute the first ever document on travelers’ philanthropy, “Giving Time, Talent, and Treasure,” which was premiered at the conference.
• Launch a new discussion board and blog for conference participants and others interested in travelers’ philanthropy.
• Expand the Experts Bureau to include more professionals who can work with companies, community organizations, NGOs, and others to develop travelers’ philanthropy projects.
• Develop a list of ‘best practices’ for both tourism businesses and travelers involved in supporting projects in the host communities.
• Incorporate additional companies and their travelers’ philanthropy projects into the Travelers’ Philanthropy website which has the capacity to receive online, tax deductible donations.

From over 20 Countries
Participants to the conference, which was held December 3-5, 2008 at the Ngurdoto Mountain Lodge, came from over 20 countries. Nearly half received full or partial scholarships to attend, thanks to funds provided by the Ford Foundation, USAID, the United Nations Foundation, and the United States Institute for Peace.

“The conference provided an important opportunity for the east African tourism industry and local community-based enterprises to engage with developments related to responsible and sustainable forms of tourism, with roughly half of all participants coming from Kenya and Tanzania,” says Fred Nelson, the lead local organizer for the conference. The conference included 18 workshops on topics such as serving local development priorities through travelers’ philanthropy; the responsibility and response of the travel industry to climate change; moving travelers’ philanthropy from a charity model to social empowerment and entrepreneurship; and bad practices and best practices for engaging travelers. In addition, the conference examined several issues critical to Africa, including the failure of many tourism businesses to adequately address the HIV/AIDS pandemic. At the conference, several delegates pledged that their companies would, within the next year, develop HIV/AIDS policies and programs for staff and visitors, as well as initiate travelers’ philanthropy projects to support HIV/AIDS clinics, orphanages, education and other types of programs in the host communities.

Kenya Wildlife Service
In his keynote address at the conference, Dr. David Western, founder of the Africa Conservation Centre and former director of the Kenya Wildlife Service, described travelers’ philanthropy as an effort “to marshal the well intentioned impulses of the traveler” to support needs in the local community. He said it derives from the concept of the Good Samaritan, “the wayfarer who helped even those who he did not know.”

He added that “Africa wants trade, not aid,” and “tourism represents the largest transfer of wealth from the North to the South.” The conference was endorsed and supported by a wide range of sponsors. These include 31 companies, organizations, and development agencies. In addition to CESD, the leading partners in organizing the conference were the Honeyguide Foundation in Tanzania, Basecamp Foundation in Kenya, and African Safari Lodge Foundation in South Africa.

It was a wonderful opportunity for Africa Travel, Trade and Tourism at the Adventures in Travel Expo in the Washington State Convention Center last weekend. Our exhibit, representing the Africa Travel Association, anchored the Africa Section and this allowed us to speak directly to the travel trade, plus potential travelers from the public. We circulated hundreds of copies of Africa Travel Magazine featuring a choice of African destinations from our ATA booth and courtesy of other exhibitors from the Africa section.

A History of Success
Seattle is an ideal city for promoting travel to Africa. We expect the interest generated here to grow as it did in New York City, where our editorial team participated in the first two Adventures in Travel Expos. The first year we had the same number of African exhibits as there were in Seattle. By the following year we had the same number of African exhibits as there were in Seattle. The number increased by four times, with many African Tourism Ministries and Tourist Boards exhibiting.

Events
Other Expos in Series
The 2010 series begins in January with Adventures in Travel Expos in New York and Chicago, followed by Los Angeles, Washington, DC and a return to Seattle. "Seattle represents a market that research shows will be very receptive to our show, an exciting arena filled with a wealth of interactive exhibits from around the globe," said John Golicz, CEO Unicomm LLC.

Powerful Media Support
Part of this success can be attributed to the quality of media partners, such as the Los Angeles Times, New York Post, Chicago Tribune, and National Geographic. Unicomm is an independent business-to-business communications company specializing in originating and managing world-class trade shows and conferences. It is led by a seasoned management team with over 50 years of events industry experience.

Our magazine was a top attraction at the ATA Exhibit, which anchored a substantial Africa Section, along with two major carriers, South African Airways and Ethiopian Airlines. Supported by the Seattle Times Daily Newspaper, Adventures in Travel Expo targets one of North America’s largest and most affluent markets, famous as the home of industry giants Boeing Aircraft Company and Microsoft, Bill Gates’ giant conglomerate. The area is America’s gateway to Asia Pacific, Alaska, and Western Canada. Africa Travel Magazine’s publishers expect many North American travelers to consider the Pacific route to Africa via China, India, Japan and other countries when planning future trips. Seattle is a city dear to my heart as it was my father’s birthplace in suburban Kirkland on the lake.

The World’s Safari Capital, Arusha, Tanzania, has undergone an amazing transformation since the city hosted the ATA 23rd Congress in 1998. Some writers call Arusha the “Geneva of Africa,” thanks to its record of success in attracting international events. In 2007, to get a complete handle on this magical change of fortune, our editorial team spent an extra 3 weeks in the community, participating in Rotary functions, the Miss Arusha Contest, the Leon H. Sullivan Summit and East Africa’s Karibu Fair. We expect to return this winter for the Travelers Philanthropy Conference.

ATA SHINES in Tanzania
The Africa Travel Association’s 33rd International Congress was a resounding success, for which we congratulate the Tanzania Tourism Board, Ministry of Natural Resources and Tourism, plus an enthusiastic group of volunteers. Who attended? Over 300 tourism industry experts including tourism ministers and officials from Angola, Belgium, Benin, Bermuda, Cameroon, Canada, Central African Republic, Chad, China, Congo, Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Madagascar, Malawi, Malta, Nigeria, Rwanda, Sierra Leone, South Africa, Sudan, Tanzania, Togo, Uganda, the USA, Zambia and Zimbabwe.

Outside the Arusha International Conference Centre, we visited one of the best ATA Trade Shows in our 14 years with the Association. The African fashions and fabrics were outstanding and Africa’s active tourism industry was well represented. We returned to the trade show often to purchase crafts, clothing and wearable art.

Africa’s Competitive Edge

Inside the spacious conference centre a varied program kept the delegates in their seats, with topics such as “Africa’s Competitive Edge,” “Tourism as an Investment Tool,” “Packaging Africa,” “Africa’s Accommodations,” and much more. Marking the importance of this event on the national scene, proceedings were opened by Tanzania’s President H.E. Jakaya Kikwete, and closed by Tanzanian President Hon. Amani Abied Karume.

Land of Many Contrasts

President Kikwete called Tanzania a land of many contrasts, pride of African heritage, rich and diverse natural and cultural resources. He stated that close to 25 percent of the land has been set aside for conservation of wildlife and forests. This vast area includes the Serengeti National Park, where the annual migration of wildebeest draws visitors from near and far. Pictoresque Mt Kilimanjaro, the Roof of Africa, is the only permanently snow capped peak in the tropics and is the highest mountain on the continent. On Arusha’s doorstep is the Ngorongoro Crater, world’s largest intact caldera forming a natural enclosure for a wide variety of wildlife. With the Olduvai Gorge, and the 3.6 million year-old human footprints at Laetoli, all adjacent to it, the Ngorongoro Conservation Area is indeed the Cradle of Mankind and the crater is the Eighth Wonder of the World.

President Kikwete mentioned the spice island of Zanzibar, the ultimate paradise in the Indian Ocean, with clear waters, unspoiled beaches, and historical heritage. Throughout Tanzania, there are game reserves, archaeological, historical and cultural sites, plus unexplored pristine southern and eastern parts, each offering an uncompromising and unique experience.

Jobs Through Tourism

President Kikwete said that tourism has provided more than 250,000 jobs, and according to the Ministry of Natural Resources and Tourism, the need for more employment in the area is so huge that out of 4325 jobs the ministry advertised only 325 had been filled. He said, “The number and size of protected areas have expanded, and their ecological values are still intact. Tourism and tourism related investments are also growing steadily and the opportunities for further growth is still available. These improvements have been made possible by our sound political and economic policies as well as programs and plans that are specifically tailored to engender fundamental transformation and modernization of the tourism sector in Tanzania through harnessing existing potentials sustainably.”

ATA President from Tanzania
Among the many high profile persons was Hon. Shamsa Selengia Mwangelwa, Tanzania’s Minister for Natural Resources and Tourism, recently elected ATA President. The Minister referred to Arusha as “gateway to the world’s finest wildlife area.” To expand on this statement, she said, “Trends indicate that tourists are searching for destinations with unspoiled natural tourist attractions, rich cultures and adventures. These trends, coupled with the friendly and warm hospitality make Africa the most ideal destination for this millennium. This year’s theme of Bringing the World to Africa and Africa to the World has come at the right time. During your stay in Arusha you will have an opportunity to visit some of our spectacular tourist attractions, including the visit to Ngorongoro Crater. When you arrive back home you will be our good ambassadors to your countries.”

Partners in Tourism
ATA Executive Director Edward J. Bergman emphasized the close ties between the ATA and Tanzania - a partnership that has gained momentum since the Association’s first visit in 1998. Bergman paid tribute to the tremendous effort by Tanzanians, stating that travel and tourism to Tanzania is booming. He noted that in recent years, Africa has become the leading region in terms of growth in international tourist arrivals, averaging seven percent growth annually since 2000. He expects Africa’s position to continue in the same direction due to improving infrastructures, advances in technology and communications, a growing private sector, more direct long-haul flights, and an expanding choice of tour and travel experiences.

Bringing the World to Africa

Those of us who were at the Arusha International Conference Centre in May, 1998, when Tanzania hosted its first Africa Travel Association World Congress, were in for a pleasant surprise. In one decade, Arusha has grown from a quiet village to a bustling city, framed by a mountain backdrop, little wonder Tanzania was selected to host the ATA 33rd Annual International Congress. The event was a world-class affair that was welcomed wholeheartedly.

Icing on the cake
During two gala evenings, delegations enjoyed fashion shows by Arusha designer Hili Bara (above right) and Chief Marga-rét Bola Fabyi of Nigeria. Host Country Day included a visit to Ngorongoro Crater, while the Media Post Tour featured a visit to Arusha National Park. Both attractions are an easy drive from Arusha, an important reason for its popularity as Safari Capital. Hats off to Wayne Keefer, Manager of the East African All Suites Hotel (at the time) and his staff, who made us feel so completely at home for over three weeks. With such a spectacular setting, framed by a mountain backdrop, little wonder Tanzania was selected to host the ATA 33rd Annual International Congress. The event was a world-class affair that was welcomed wholeheartedly.

Africa Travel Magazine editors covered the ATTA World Summit in Whistler, BC, Canada and were overwhelmed with the quality, the speakers, events program and successful management of the Summit. We are confident that this year’s event will meet with the same wide acceptance. Past participants in the Adventure Travel Trade Association’s Pre-Summit Adventures consider these early conference excursions some of the most valuable networking time – quality time spent between delegates who naturally build relationships in an environment conducive to genuine fun, conversation and thoughtful dialogue. Such adventures are, of course, designed for networking, but also to help delegates explore a new destination. For 2009, Québec Province offers quality adventure options provided by members of the highly respected ATTA Association member, Aventure Écotourisme Québec (AEQ). Below, please find two different ways in which you can participate in adventures before the opening Summit ceremonies on October 19th!

The Adventure Travel Trade Association exists to:
• Responsibly promote and publicizes sustainable adventure travel
• Is the networking hub for DMOs, tour operators & travel agents
• Hosts the industry’s trade-only Adventure Travel World Summit conferences
• Operates and promotes the traveler’s online guide to high quality, trusted tour operators at www.Adventure.Travel
• Publishes AdventureTravelNews™ for travel professionals
• Provides knowledge resources, research & discounts

Africa Travel Association (Renews Partnership with World Religious Travel Association)

The Africa Travel Association (ATA) and the World Religious Travel Association (WRTA) announced today the continuation of their partnership agreement, aiming to support both organizations' endeavors in the promotion of religious travel and tourism. “The Africa Travel Association (ATA) is excited to work with WRTA to promote faith-based tourism to Africa,” said ATA Executive Director, Edward Bergman. “Religious tourism is certainly a growing niche market for travelers to the African continent and the partnership with WRTA will help us educate our membership on faith-based tourism opportunities.”

According to WRTA, religious travel and hospitality opportunities can be found across Africa in four main ways: visiting a religious destination; attending a religious gathering; traveling for missionary or humanitarian purposes; or leisure traveling with fellowship intention. “Faith-based tourism attracts 300 million travelers worldwide, who spend $18 billion annually,” said Kevin J. Wright, WRTA President. “We look forward to once again working with ATA, especially as Africa has long served as a top destination for people of faith. In fact, among the wide variety of travel experiences the continent offers, faith-based African safaris are quickly becoming one of the most popular new trends in religious travel today.”

Under the new partnership agreement, ATA and its members will participate in the WRTA World Religious Travel Expo and Educational Conference to be held from November 14-16, 2009 in Reno, Nevada. WRTA will participate in ATAs events in the United States and Africa, including ATA's 35th Annual Congress to be held in The Gambia in May 2010.
